

Contents

Preface to the Second Edition	vii
Preface to the First Edition	viii
Contributors	ix
Chapter 1 Language skills and learning to read: the dyslexia spectrum	1
Margaret J. Snowling
Chapter 2 Speech and spelling difficulties: what to look for	15
Joy Stackhouse
Chapter 3 The dyslexic brain	36
W.A. Lishman
Chapter 4 The prediction and screening of children's reading difficulties	54
Valerie Muter
Chapter 5 Assessing speech and language skills in the school-age child	74
Hilary Gardner
Chapter 6 Assessing reading and spelling skills	98
Nata K. Goulandris
Chapter 7 Assessing children's reading comprehension	128
Kate Nation

Chapter 8	Short-term memory: assessment and intervention	143
	Maggie Vance and Jane E. Mitchell
Chapter 9	Phonological awareness and reading intervention	167
	Peter J. Hatcher
Chapter 10	Spelling: challenges and strategies for the dyslexic learner and the teacher	198
	Claire Jamieson and Sarah Simpson
Chapter 11	Developing handwriting skills	229
	Jane Taylor
Chapter 12	Managing the needs of pupils with dyslexia in mainstream classrooms	253
	Janet Hatcher
Chapter 13	The assessment and management of psychosocial aspects of reading and language impairments	278
	Poppy Nash
Chapter 14	Supporting language and literacy in the early years: interdisciplinary training	302
	Jannet A. Wright and Janet Wood
Chapter 15	Current themes and future directions	320
	Maggie Snowling and Joy Stackhouse
	References	329
	Author index	355
	Subject index	361